

NOVEL SPELLING MATCH PLANNED

Members of the High School Challenge Citizens to Meet Them in "Bee."

MUCH INTEREST IN CONTEST.

Students Will Try to Show "Old Timers" A Few Things About The Science of Orthography.

One of the most novel spelling matches ever held in the state of Indiana is being arranged for this city, the members of the Shields high school having offered a challenge to the citizens. During the past few years there has been much said about the neglect of spelling in the modern schools, and the members of the high school believe that by means of such a "bee" they can prove to some of the "old timers" that there are at least a few good spellers left. A number of the citizens have taken considerable interest in the contest and say that they desire to take a part.

The definite arrangements for the match have not yet been arranged. It will probably be held some time during the first of May. It is the intention of those who suggested the "bee" to conduct it as a test and to ascertain the efficiency of the high school public along this branch of their work. It was suggested that a list of words be prepared by a committee representing the citizens and the schools, and that these words be given to the contestants so that they might prepare for the test. Others argue that the plan should not be adopted as it would not afford an opportunity for an actual test of the ability of the contestants except on the words which will be used. A better plan, they say, is to use common words, which any high school student should be able to spell without preparation. The members of the high school are supposed to have completed their course of spelling and should therefore be prepared to spell correctly any word which is used in every day life.

During the past year an increased interest has been shown in the matter of improving the spelling in the public schools. There is a general belief that the graduates of the modern common schools are not as well trained in this branch of their school work as were the pupils twenty years ago. It is said that the average spelling books which are adopted by the school authorities of the state are filled with technical words rather than with common words with which every pupil should be acquainted. The method of teaching reading and spelling in the school today is altogether different from that used twenty or thirty years ago, and this is undoubtedly, why many persons believe that the pupils are not well prepared as they were at that time.

The arrangement committee for the spelling match will be appointed later and the definite plans will be left with the members of this committee.

All the members of the high school will be given an opportunity to enter the contest. In order that both sides be given an equal chance in the test the number of citizens will be limited to that of the number of students entering. There are several men in the city who have a reputation for spelling and these have signified their intention to compete for honors.

CLOSING NOTICE IN FORCE.

Ban Now Placed on Church Services and Other Public Meetings.

The general closing order issued by the board of health in the aid of the various quarantines for scarlet fever went into effect today. From this date until March 13, all public meetings and assemblages will be prohibited. The order applies to all meetings and public gatherings.

The public believes that the board of health has taken the right step in closing all places until the danger of the epidemic is past, and the members are being commended today. There are, however, several persons who have stated that they did not believe the action of the health board was necessary, but the majority of the citizens take the opposite view of the matter.

There have been many inquiries as to whether or not the order included the various lodges. Dr. J. H. Carter, secretary of the board of health, declares that these organizations are within the scope of the order and shall not be permitted to hold meetings until after the general quarantine is raised. All the private and parochial schools are also included in the order and were closed this morning.

The persons who are quarantined with the fever are reported to be improving. There was one new case reported this afternoon, the little three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raeborn, on north Ewing street.

As the council has announced that it will hold its regular session next Thursday night, there has been some inquiries concerning the meeting. The secretary of the board of health, when asked about the matter, stated that as this body met for the purpose of discussing questions relative to the welfare of the city, he would take the matter under advisement.

The various school buildings, churches and places of amusements will be thoroughly disinfected as soon as the quarantine is lifted, so that there will be no danger of any one contracting the disease when the places are again opened to the public.

Tuesday Club.

On account of the order of the Board of Health the meeting of the Tuesday Club will be postponed until March 14. The program for Feb. 28 and the election of officers will be held at that time.

Mrs. W. F. Pfaffenberger, Pres.

Notice.

In view of the decision of the board of health and the possibility of the extension of the quarantine, the K. of C. lecture scheduled for the 15th of March has been withdrawn.

Court of Honor.

Because of the order of the board of health there will be no meeting of the Court of Honor Lodge this evening.

APPROPRIATION FOR SEYMOUR SITE

This City is Remembered in Sunday Civil Appropriation Bill By Committee.

SUM OF $12,000 IS PROVIDED.

Other Appropriations Must Be Made In Future—Site Not Yet Announced.

Seymour was remembered in the Sunday civil appropriation bill which was completed by the appropriation committee and submitted to Congress Thursday.

An appropriation of $12,000 is provided for the Seymour federal building. The limit of cost for building and site is $60,000 and the money appropriated this session, $12,000, will be for the purchase of the site. As to the location of the latter no announcement has ever been made since the inspection last summer of the different sites offered.

The bill carries $10,000 for the Washington building and the same amount for Columbus. To date $8,000 has been appropriated for the latter city. Eighteen Indiana cities were remembered in the appropriation bill this session.

The selection of the Washington and other sites have been recently announced and it is expected that the selection for Seymour will be made public within a short time. As to what time in the future work on the building will begin is an uncertainty. Appropriations for the building will have to be made by some future congress and it is hoped the next regular session may attend to the matter. With a site purchased there will at least be the certainty that a building will be erected. Some time ago there was a report from Washington that on account of many heavy appropriations necessary this year the secretary of the treasury was opposed to unnecessary appropriations for post office sites this year and that Seymour and other Indiana cities might have to wait. The action yesterday however relieves the anxiety.

Baptist Church Notice.

Members of the First Baptist Church are requested to bring their weekly and monthly contributions to the church treasurer regularly during the time the quarantine regulations prevent services at the church. It is important that this be done because there are necessarily some expenses that must be met. The treasurer can be found at the postoffice every day up to 9 p. m. Leave your envelope and you will get credit. Why not every member of the church make an offering before 9 o'clock Saturday night?

ACCEPTS POSITION.

Frank J. Smith Becomes Master Mechanic of C. G. W. Railroad.

Frank J. Smith, who resigned from the office of master mechanic of the Washington shops of the B. & O. Southwestern railroad November 21, last, has accepted an unsolicited offer to become master mechanic of the Chicago Great Western railroad shops, Chicago. Mr. Smith will report in Chicago to assume his new duties March 1.

Mr. Smith who went to Chicago Tuesday to consult with the officers of the company regarding the situation returned to Washington Thursday morning. Mr. Smith stated that he knew nothing of the size of the shops or the number of men employed as he had not had time during his stay in Chicago to visit the shops.

Mr. Smith will not move his family to Chicago until the close of the present term of school, a son, Howard Smith, being a member of this year's graduating class of the high school. Friends of Mr. Smith while rejoicing in the news of his appointment to the Chicago situation, are loath to see him cease to be a resident of Washington. Coming to Washington in November 1903, Mr. Smith has established a circle of acquaintances that extends far beyond the limits of the employees of the shops. As master mechanic at the local shops seven years Mr. Smith filled the office for a longer period than any other man who ever occupied the office.—Washington Herald.

SUGAR WATER DAYS.

Many Farmers In the County Making "Real" Maple Syrup.

This is the season of the year when the farmers are making "real" maple syrup, the kind that is genuine and is worthy of the stamp of the pure food inspector. The sap in the maple trees is running freely, and in several parts of the county the annual boiling camps have been established. Nearly every farmer who owns a number of sugar trees is now busily engaged in boiling the sap and if he had a sufficient supply to sell will have no trouble in disposing of it at the local markets. Before the pure food law was enacted many of the syrups sold under the name of maple syrup, were never inside of a sugar camp, but were manufactured from brown sugar and water or a combination of birch bark and brown sugar. The penalty for selling adulterated syrup is very heavy and there are but few attempts to sell the imitations as genuine.

The length of the sugar water season depends upon the weather. If the cold nights and warm days continue the sap will continue to flow but if the weather should become very warm the trees will begin to bud and the sugar water season will be at a close. This year the weather has enabled the farmers to get an early start on their trees.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM.

Large Audience at St. Paul Church Pleased With Musical.

The Musical given Thursday night at the St. Paul's church proved to be one of the best that has ever been heard in this city and judging from the large audience and the frequent encores accorded those taking part, it was evident that all the numbers were well received. The solos by Miss Alma Massman of Cincinnati, were well rendered and were admirably adapted to her voice, which is a soprano of an unusually pure quality. Each number of the program was a feature in itself and the participants showed extraordinary ability and talent.

ONLY TWO BIDS WERE RECEIVED

Council Awards Contract for Removal of Garbage to George Story for $60 Per Month.

BID OF SAMUEL NICHOLSON $80.

Councilman Davison, Presiding, Urges Police and Citizens to Assist in Obeying Closing Notice.

The city council met in special session last night that being the time set to open the bids for the removal of garbage for one year beginning March 1, 1911. There were only two bids received, one from Samuel Nicholson, who had held the contract for several years, and the other from George Story. The former agreed to do the work for $80 per month, and the bid of the latter was $60 a month. Under the present contract with Mr. Nicholson he receives $60 per month. Both bids were filed according to the form adopted by the council.

Councilman Mills moved to accept the bid of Mr. Story as it was $20 per month lower than the competitor. Councilman W. R. Day addressed the council stating that there were several things to consider in granting a contract of that character, and as Mr. Nicholson has had several years experience and is well acquainted with the work was in favor of letting him have the contract, although his bid was somewhat higher. He said that it would require several months for a new man to become acquainted with the manner of collecting the garbage and the trouble which would be experienced would balance the difference in cost.

Councilman Mills replied that Mr. Story had lived here for many years and as he was thoroughly competent he did not believe the council would receive many complaints. He added that the successful bidder would be required to give a bond for the faithful performance of duty. Mr. Davison, who presided in the absence of Mayor Swope, said he thought the man who was awarded the contract should give the work his personal attention and should not sublet the contract to other parties.

A vote on the motion to give the contract to Mr. Story was carried by a vote of 5 to 1. W. R. Day voting in the negative. The city attorney was instructed to draw up a proper bond.

Councilman Mills, chairman of the board of public safety, said that the fire chief had asked about making the check for Bert Wallace, who has been serving in the place of Melvin Jerrell, who was injured a few weeks ago while exercising the horses. It was explained that it had been the custom of the council in the past to pay the regular firemen for the time they were off duty on account of an injury received while on duty, and also pay the substitute. Upon the motion of Councilman Sherman Day Fire Chief Walter Everhart was instructed to draw a check for Fireman Jerrell and also for Mr. Wallace.

Mr. Davison remarked that the board of health had issued a general closing notice in aid of the various quarantines, and stated that he thought the officers and citizens should assist the members of the board in obeying the provisions of the order as it was for the purpose of protecting public health.

The council adjourned about 8 o'clock to meet again Thursday evening in regular session.

A BRANAMAN BILL

Was Among the Bunch Passed by House Thursday.

Among the sixteen bills passed by the lower house of the legislature Thursday was one which bears the name of Representative Branaman of this county. The bill which would require all township trustees to submit to advisory boards itemized lists of estimated expenditures at the beginning of each year would permit them to include office expense and clerical hire, passed by a vote of 58 to 19. Representative Brown presented an amendment, which was defeated, providing that the clerical hire should be paid for out of the poor fund. He contended that the extra work of township trustees is necessitated in overseeing the poor, and that this is the only fund raised by general taxation of all property within and without incorporated cities and towns.

The bill provided that the expenses of clerical hire should be paid from the township fund. In opposing the proposed Brown amendment, Mr. Branaman declared that the township fund also was raised by general taxation of all property within the township, irrespective of the limits of incorporated cities and towns.

After the amendment had been voted down, John C. Becker, trustee of North Township, Lake County, stated that he had an opinion from the Accounting Board and from Thomas M. Honan, attorney general, upholding the legality of assessing the township fund tax levy against all the property of the township. It is believed, however, that a very few of the trustees levy the tax for the township fund to cover property within the limits of incorporated cities and towns.

SAN JOSE SCALE

Entomologist Finds There is Demand For Work in This County.

S. W. Erbaugh, a state entomologist who has been in this locality a day or two has found the San Jose scale very plentiful, in fact there is urgent need for immediate and active work on the part of owners of orchards.

This is the time of year that the orchards should receive attention and spraying should be done. While it may be that the scale cannot be entirely wiped out it can be gotten rid of to a large extent and its further spread prevented. The rapid spread of scales means the general ruin of the orchards unless vigorous measures by owners are not adopted. The work and expense of spraying and such treatment will be largely repaid by the preservation of the trees and the increase and improvement of the fruit crops. Mr. Erbaugh states that if the farmers whose trees are suffering from the San Jose scale will write to B. W. Douglas, of Indianapolis, State Entomologist and secure copies of his first, second and third annual reports they will get valuable information. The San Jose scale is easier to combat than the codling moth which is responsible for wormy apples. This is not the time of year for the campaign against the moth.

HAT ORNAMENTS.

Trimings That May Be Successfully Made at Home.

GARDENIA QUITE POPULAR.

The Latest Fancy, However, Is a Bunch of White Grapes—Make One of These Designs For Your Spring Chapeau. White Kid Lends Itself to Various Attractive Designs.

The vogue for white kid as trimming for hats has reached a point where the needlewoman can step safely to the rescue. Any of these ornaments can be made at home from white kid purchased at a leather store or cut with clever fingers from discarded gloves. These ornaments can be cleaned, they are soft and of light weight, and if you wish a touch of water color can be added.

The round form is of kid and gold braid. On a disk of heavy scrim the long strip of kid is shirred, allowing a space in the center. The outer edge is held in place under the heavy gilt cord, and a wheel of the same is used for the center of the whole ornament. This is quite easily formed at home and in this season of millinery simplicity is sufficient decoration for an outing hat.

Gardenias of white kid are made of several round petals, with four or five smaller ones with irregular edges. The gardenia can be tinted with pink and changed by the wave of a brush to a camellia. Such is life!

Perhaps the latest is a bunch of grapes in white kid on the back. In the form of a poppy the white kid petals are held in the center by a cluster of yellow stamens. These can be bought at any millinery department.

GARDENIA AND A SMART ROUND ORNAMENT OF KID.

and the form of each petal is sufficiently clear to guide you in cutting it out of the leather. A wire stem is covered and attached at the base.

Cotton is used, and circular pieces of white kid about the size of a fifty cent piece are gathered around the wadding. The grapes are attached to a triangular foundation of black net and a wire stem covered with a narrow strip of kid wrapped around it.

The kid wing on wire, a military fan of two or three rows of plaited or fluted leather, a jeweled buckle—these you have seen, perhaps, on hats. It is now urged that you make an ornament for that little hat of the season.

Spool Holders.

Did you ever go hastily to your sewing basket and find all the thread unwound and tangled? If you ever did you will appreciate the very simple holder for spools of cotton and silk described here. In size and scope it may be varied as you please, but the sample described is just about what the average housewife needs.

The foundation is a board 12 by 8 inches and a half inch thick. Into this drive two rows of six long nails, each long enough, that is, for their points to project through to the other side the length (almost) of a spool.

On the board mark in plain letters above the top row "20, 30, 40, 50, 60, 70." In the top row put your black thread of the corresponding number, in your bottom row your white.

If you wish to add a row of colored silks, mark them also, the proper color under each.

So that the spools shall not fall off the nails drop a bit of hot sealing wax at the top of each nail. This will prevent hurting the hand on the sharp nails also. When the spool is exhausted it is easy enough to knock off the sealing wax and apply new.

Put screw eyes at the back of this board and hang it up by your work table or sewing machine. You will find it one of the most useful articles in the room.

Cranberry Muffins.

Beat one-third of a cupful of butter to a cream. Gradually beat in one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, then one egg, beaten light; three-fourths of a cupful of milk and two cups of sifted flour, sifted again with two round-teaspoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. When well mixed beat in one cup of cranberries, cut in halves. Bake about twenty-five minutes in a well buttered muffin pan.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Thumb.

Thumbs have been appreciated ever since the world began. The ancients used to call the thumb the other hand. Barbarous kings used to swear and make compacts by their thumbs. In Rome it was a sign of favor to wring and kiss the thumb and of disfavor or disgrace to lift it up or turn it outward. A man who was hurt in his thumbs was excused from serving in the Roman wars. Some of the scoundrelly citizens used to cut off their thumbs so as to remain at home and get rich. Teachers used to punish their pupils by biting their thumbs.

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt-rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif. #### Dodging a Lion Hunter.

The fondness that some people have for contact with notables is not always shared by the notables themselves. It is told of the late Baron Huddleston that he once tried to obtain a seat next to a duke at the table of a hotel where both were guests. That this proximity to the great man might be brought about the baron gave the waiter a sovereign. The servant proved a traitor, and, an explanation being demanded, he confessed that the duke had given him two sovereigns not to give the baron the coveted seat.

The Laughing Hyena.

Although the hysterical laughter of the laughing hyena is not, as was once supposed, the outcome of a deliberate attempt to decoy unwary travelers to their doom, this strange animal is, nevertheless, one of the most cunning of dumb animals. He is so suspicious of everything he does not understand that the sight of even a bit of string at once puts him on his guard. Trappers are aware of this fact and generally use the stems of creeping plants instead of string of any kind in setting their spring traps.

Accused of Stealing.

E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Me., boldly accuses Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. "It robs cuts, corns, bruises, sprains and injuries of their terror," he says, "as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

AVOID THE RUTS.

The most beaten and frequented tracks are those which lead us most astray. Nothing, therefore, is more important than that we should not, like sheep, follow the flock that has gone before us and thus proceed not whither we ought, but whither the rest are going.—Salacia.

FRANK W. MONDELL

Representative From Wyoming Mixes It With the Alaskan.

MEMBERS CLINCH ON FLOOR OF THE HOUSE

When Lie Was Passed the Trouble Began.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The proceedings in the house were marked by a sensational encounter between Representative Mondell of Wyoming and Delegate Wickersham of Alaska. The lie was passed, Wickersham swung a fist toward Mondell, whereupon the two men grappled. They were parted and on motion of Representative Tawney made appropriate apologies to the house. The house passed the Moon bill codifying the laws of the federal judiciary, also the bill making appropriations for the maintenance of the West Point military academy in the fiscal year beginning July next. The militia pay bill was defeated by the vote of 156 to 101.

The Wickersham-Mondell scrap was the first fight in the chamber while congress was in session since Mr. Bartlett of Georgia attacked Representative Southwick of New York half a dozen years ago.

The lie direct being passed, Wickersham made a rush toward Mondell, who was only a few feet away, and tried to hit him in the face. Failing in this, he clutched at Mondell's throat. Representative Foster grabbed Wickersham from behind. The Alaskan, enraged, struggled to escape, yelling "Let me get at him."

But Foster, who is a big man and strong, held on tight, and was roundly cursed for his pains. It is not likely that Wickersham's language at this juncture will be reproduced in the Congressional Record or anywhere else.

In the meantime Representative Longworth of Ohio and several other members were sitting on Mondell, who seemed as eager as Wickersham for a personal clash. All possibility of a fight ended when Representative Dwight of New York, the Republican whip, who is about the biggest man, up and down and across in the house, stepped in between the belligerents.

The bitterness generated by the Ballinger-Pinchot contest over conservation, and directly the administration's bill to provide for the leasing of coal lands in Alaska, started the trouble.

Among the interesting amendments incorporated in the bill codifying the federal judiciary by the house was that which erases from a large part of the statutes all references to "the war of the rebellion" and substitutes civil war for those words. It was on motion of the southern members that this amendment was adopted.

Ever have a "low-down" pain in the back?

In the "small," right over the hips? That's the home of backache. It's caused by sick kidneys. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Seymour people endorse this. Read a case of it:

E. L. Hinkle, 415 Laurel street, Seymour, Ind., says: "In 1900 I was on the verge of Bright's disease. I had sharp pains in my back that often radiated throughout my body and I was hardly able to walk. I rested poorly and was annoyed by the frequent passages of the kidney secretions. After doctoring for over a year without being helped, Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by a friend, who had used them with good results. I procured a supply and the contents of a few boxes cured me. As I have never had a recurrence of kidney trouble, Doan's Kidney Pills have my heartiest endorsement."

There are hundreds of women in this vicinity, weak, thin, run-down, tired out and nervous. Such women need Vinol just as much as did Mrs. Jane Pepper of 2307 Howard street, San Francisco, Cal., who says:

"I have used Vinol for some time with particularly gratifying results. I was run-down, weak and debilitated and my appetite was gone. After taking several bottles of Vinol I found my condition greatly improved, and do not hesitate to recommend Vinol to anyone similarly affected." (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

Vinol is not a secret nostrum, but a delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil which will create an appetite, tone up the digestive organs, make pure blood and create strength.

Washington Birthday Program.

A most delightful social was given by the Rebekah lodge Thursday evening at their hall in the I. O. O. F. building, when a Washington Birthday program was given under the direction of the February social committee, of which Mrs. David A. Baird was chairman. The hall was artistically decorated with flags and bunting appropriately for the occasion. The social part of the evening was greatly enjoyed and the program was highly complimented. Vocal selections were given by Miss Anna E. Carter, Otto DeArmond and Prof. H. C. Gast. Readings by Miss Edna Doane, Miss Elizabeth Rinehart and E. A. Remy also pleased the members present. Miss Edna Dobbins gave several beautiful instrumental selections during the evening. A lunch was served, and favors of silk flags were given.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and its best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it forty years. It's the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequalled for lagrippe, asthma, hay-fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price 50c, $1.00. ## SENATE DETERMINED ON SPECIAL SESSION

At Least Actions Seem to Indicate As Much.

Washington, Feb. 24.—In dealing with the question of reciprocity every move made in the senate indicates a purpose on the part of those opposed to it to postpone the question until the new congress comes in. The result of the success of such a movement will be the calling of an extra session of congress to meet about March 15. One of the most suggestive moves was made when Senator Cummins secured the passage of a resolution calling on the president to send to the senate certain information and recommendations of the tariff board relating to the various commodities embraced in the scheme of Canadian reciprocity. Questioned by Senator Smoot as to his purpose in calling for this information, Senator Cummins frankly admitted that it was desired as the basis for certain amendments he proposed to offer to the Canadian reciprocity bill.

The reciprocity bill will probably be reported to the senate today without recommendation. This will leave it in the senate open to amendment, and if Senator Cummins's action in the senate is a clear indication of what may be expected there will be numerous amendments proposed, with the prospect that some of them will be adopted and there will be the uncertainty that the debate begotten thereby will be long and laborious.

Sullivan, Ind., Feb. 24.—A burglar entered the home of John Brock, a farmer living twelve miles northwest of Sullivan, and stole $1,085 from a dresser drawer. Brock had drawn the money from the bank with the intention of using it in making purchases of stock for his farm. Two hundred dollars belonging to his brother, who had come to spend the night, was also taken. There is no clue.

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pound, Wis.—"I am glad to announce that I have been cured of dyspepsia and female troubles by your medicine. I had been troubled with both for fourteen years and consulted different doctors, but failed to get any relief. After using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I can say I am a well woman. I can't find words to express my thanks for the good your medicine has done me. You may publish this if you wish."

—Mrs. HERMAN STEPH, Pound, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

Rheumatism Comes From Bad Kidneys

Once Your Kidneys Work Properly, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease and Bladder Trouble Disappear. How To Cure Yourself.

It is no longer necessary to spend months and months undergoing a complicated treatment for rheumatism, kidney or bladder trouble, or spend a good many dollars in doctors' bills.

A new treatment can now be obtained which seems to act more like a marvel than a medicine. This treatment has produced such satisfactory results in a short time that it is now guaranteed from first to last.

There should be no more doubt about the rapid cure of rheumatism, no fears of the fatal termination of treacherous kidney disease or dropsy.

Rheumatism means nothing more nor less than that your kidneys do not work properly. Your blood passes through the kidneys hundreds of times a day to be filtered and purified. When the kidneys are weak, the poisons are not taken out of the blood as they should be. This leads to various diseases, such as rheumatism, terrible Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy and bladder trouble.

The new guaranteed treatment is Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills. One day's use of them will prove their remarkable effect. M. T. Ridenour of Lima, Ohio, says: "When I feel bad in my back, I just take a couple of Derby's Kidney Pills and get immediate relief."

If you have rheumatism anywhere, back pains, cloudy foul urine, pains in the bladder, Bright's disease, or diabetes, put your whole confidence in Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills, and you will not be disappointed.

Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills are sold at all drug stores—60 pills—10 days' treatment—25 cents, or we will send them direct from the laboratory of Derby Medicine Co., Marion Rapids, Mich., prepaid if you wish. If you want to try them first, just tell your druggist to give you a free sample package.

CHRONIC ULCERS INDICATE BAD BLOOD

Where the blood is pure any wound or laceration of the flesh heals "by first intention." This is true because nature has provided a constituent to the circulation known as Plasma, which joins and holds the place together until the fibres and tissues can permanently knit and interweave. Whenever the ulcer becomes chronic it is because this healing quality of the blood has been impaired by some impurity in the circulation, and the place remains open, infecting all surrounding flesh, until the character of the circulation is changed. No sore can heal where the blood is bad; because the morbid impurities on which it thrives are constantly deposited into it by the burdened circulation. Cleanse the blood and the sore will heal of its own accord, because then its very source and foundation will have been destroyed. S. S. S. cures Chronic Ulcers of every kind for the one great reason that it thoroughly purifies the blood. It goes into the circulation and removes every particle of infectious or morbid matter, enriches the corpuscles, and assists nature in the formation of the necessary plasmic qualities of this vital fluid.

No matter from what source the impurities of the blood came, S. S. S. will remove them. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Money Kings On Tribunal Of Business?

the membership, according to the Perkins idea, would be limited to men with reputations for business ability.

Though no sample personnel is submitted by Mr. Perkins in his article in the Editorial Review, others have suggested the following financial leaders as being at the top of various businesses in America:

kings, and he follows it by saying that "we now have at Washington a supreme court, to which is referred the final settlement of our legal questions. This court is composed, of course, of lawyers only, and it is the dream of every young man who enters the law that he may some day be called to the supreme bench. If such a call comes, it matters not how lucrative his practice, he always drops it for the honor conferred."

"Why not have a similar goal for our business men? Why not have a court for business questions on which no man could sit who had not had a business training, with an honorable record?"

"The time has come for business men to take a hand in these questions, to think them out, to decide as to the best course for our country to take and then champion that course to the full measure of their ability. If this is done in each community, and done honestly and fearlessly, we can trust to the good sense of our people to render a sane verdict."

Novel Automobile Mascots.

Automobile mascots are not unknown in America, and Teddy bears and Billikens have held sway for a year or two. In England these have been popular and dropped into disfavor, but the rage for new mascots is on with increasing fervor. This mascot is always attached to the cab of the radiator, and the material is usually solid brass or aluminium picked out with enamel. At present a comic London "bobby" is first in favor, closely followed by a yelping dog. Some motorists have adopted the continental patron saint, St. Christopher, who is represented as bearing a lamb in his arms and picking his way across a stream.

TWO IMPORTANT COURT RULINGS

Sunday Base Ball Saved and Sheriff's Fees Killed.

SETTLES CONTENTED CASES

By the Decision of the State Supreme Court the Sunday Baseball Law of 1909 Is Held to Be Constitutional, While the Sheriff's "In and Out" Fee Law Is Declared to Be Unconstitutional.

Indianapolis, Feb. 24.—In reversing the judgment in the case of the state against Charles C. Carr, the Indiana supreme court decided that the Sunday baseball law is constitutional and baseball may lawfully be played on Sunday. The opinion was written by Judge Cox and concurred in by Judges Morris and Jordan, while Judge Myers wrote a dissenting opinion in which Judge Monks concurred.

Carr, who was manager of the Indianapolis baseball club last year, was charged by affidavit with a violation of the act of 1909, which forbids people to labor or follow their "usual avocation" on Sunday, with certain exceptions, which include playing baseball between the hours of 1 o'clock p. m. and 6 o'clock p. m., and not less than 1,000 feet distant from any church or hospital. He was convicted, and after moving an arrest of judgment and for a new trial he appealed, and the case has hung fire for many months. Another important decision of the supreme court affirms Judge Remster's ruling that the in and out fee for sheriffs is unconstitutional. The higher court ruling will save the state $100,000 and Marion county $16,000, payment of this amount to the county clerk and Sheriff Woessner being held up pending the court action.

The decision comes on a suit to enjoin Sheriff Woessner from collecting the fees filed shortly after the legislative session of 1909 by Henry W. Bullock.

The bill giving the sheriffs of the state a fee of 25 cents for each prisoner entering the jail, and 25 cents for each prisoner discharged, was passed by the session of 1907, but reached Governor Hanly too late for action.

He vetoed the bill and it was held over according to law for presentation at the next session. The next session was the Hanly special session, and on the ground that the special session did not constitute a session, the bill was not presented until the regular session of 1909.

It was passed and became a law without being subject to veto by Governor Marshall.

The supreme court held with Judge Remster that the law was unconstitutional because not presented at the special session, which, it held, constituted the next session within the meaning of the law.

ASTONISHING STORY

Officers of a Fraternal Insurance Society Secretly Sold Out.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 24.—Officers and directors of a fraternal insurance society secretly selling their position of trust to strangers from New York for $5,000 apiece and then permitting the New Yorkers to remove the assets of their society to New York to be exchanged for what Deputy Attorney General Cunningham termed a "lot of wild cats and dogs," was the story unfolded in the Dauphin county court. The Keystone Guard, a fraternal insurance organization, organized in 1906 with home offices in Athens, Bradford county, 8,714 policy holders scattered through the country, though mostly in this state, is the organization involved in proceedings brought by the attorney general to have the society dissolved.

Counsel for Joseph W. Beaman of Athens, the president, appealed to the court for protection of the witness on the grounds that Mr. Cunningham was laying the foundations for charges of criminal conspiracy. President Beaman's testimony involved all the other officers, who are also men of prominence, and it was brought out that several of the men wanted by the Dauphin county court have left the state since the proceedings were started. Beaman is a prominent attorney of Athens and superintendent of a Sunday school.

SHOT BY BROTHER

Family Attempted to Keep Result of Quarrel Quiet.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 24.—It has become known that H. M. Huff, who was brought to a Terre Haute hospital from Indian Springs, supposedly injured by the kick of a horse, was shot by his brother, the bullet entering the hip. No attempt was made to arrest the brother, Webb Huff, until it was reported that he was missing. The family at first wished to suppress the facts, but the wounded man says the brother will be prosecuted.

"It is a long-standing trouble," said the man at the hospital.

Guilty of Manslaughter.

Bloomfield, Ind., Feb. 24.—The jury in the case of Charles Burton, charged with killing Ausa Staples, returned a verdict of manslaughter.

New British Coins Called Too German

blame is being placed largely on the shoulders of Bertram Mackennal, the designer.

The objection in this case is that the head of King George bears a much closer resemblance to Prince Henry of Prussia than to the king or ruler of Great Britain and Ireland, emperor of India, etc.

Because of this discovery there is considerable amazement expressed in London that neither the king nor any of his cabinet or close friends perceived the striking resemblance to the brother of Kaiser Wilhelm. If this resemblance had been noted before the coins were issued the dies could easily have been destroyed and new ones engraved, but this is now an impossibility.

The coins struck in honor of King Edward were considered too French, but the clamor that arose on that occasion is nothing as compared to the fancied German countenance on his son's coinage.

Because of the king's great interest in philately it is hoped by many that the new stamps will be an artistic improvement on the designs now in use. The king, it will be remembered, possesses one of the finest collections of postage stamps in existence. If the new stamps are to be judged by the late coinage this hope is vain, according to those desiring a change.

Illustrations of three of the new coins already struck—the sovereign, shilling and halfpenny—show few changes from the original dies. Except for the substitution of the portrait of the new king for that of his father, which, in accordance with the custom that has prevailed since the days of Charles II., is turned the opposite way to that of the preceding monarch, no change has been made in the design.

The reverse of the sovereign still bears the design of St. George and the dragon, which was engraved by Pistrucci in 1821, with slight modifications, such as the addition of a horse-hair crest on the helmet, which was introduced late in Victoria's reign.

On the halfpenny the Britannia shown on the reverse is that designed for Victoria's second bronze coinage, which omits the lighthouse and ship. The reverse of the shilling shows the same royal crest, a lion statant on the crown, as did the shilling of Edward. This device is of ancient origin, the first example being the gold half and quarter florin of Edward III. in 1343, which was revived on the lion shilling of George IV., but fell into disuse until its appearance on the coinage of Edward VII.

It is asserted that new designs will be produced on two denominations of the new silver coinage.

erly speaking, though it is divided into two sections. The first is like the forward truck of a wagon, forming the steering portion of the tandem, the rear runner being immovable. The plan is similar to that of the bicycle and requires careful balancing, the occupant of the front seat doing the steering and the other preserving the equilibrium.

"INS AND OUTS" LAW HELD VOID

Provided That Sheriffs Be Allowed Twenty-five Cents for Committing And Discharging Each Prisoner.

BILL VETOED BY GOV. HANLEY.

Jerry McOsker Only Sheriff of This County Who Has Held Office Since Law Was Enacted.

The Supreme Court Thursday declared invalid the "ins and outs" law, which provided that a county sheriff shall receive twenty-five cents for each prisoner committed to jail, and the same amount for discharging them. It has been the custom since the law was enacted for the sheriffs of this county to collect such fees. There has been much opposition to the law since it was generally believed that the salaries of the sheriffs paid them sufficiently for simply registering and checking off the names of the prisoners as they were committed and discharged.

The case which was decided by the Supreme Court was taken to the higher tribunal from Marion county where a suit had been brought to enjoin the auditor, treasurer and board of commissioners from paying the claim filed by the sheriff for $180.25. In the circuit court the judge held that the law was invalid and the claim should not be paid. Judge Morris wrote the opinion of the court and Judge Jordan handed down a dissenting opinion. The majority opinion was based on an interpretation of the constitution, which provides that a vetoed bill shall be returned to the Legislature at its next session. The court held that "at its next session," meant the first meeting of the General Assembly, either in special or regular session. It held that if the framers of the constitution had meant a "regular" session the word would have been inserted in the paragraph.

The opinion reads: "Because the General Assembly, at its session of 1908, did not pass the bill, not withstanding the objection of the Governor, it never became a law, the lower court did not err in overruling appellant's demurrer to complaint, therefore judgment is affirmed."

In the complaint it was alleged that the law was not valid because it was passed by the Legislature of 1907 during the last days of the session, was vetoed by Governor Hanley and returned to the secretary of state within five days, as provided by law. The constitution provides that a bill vetoed by the Governor, after the Legislature is adjourned, shall be presented by the secretary of state to the next Legislature. The secretary of state failed to return the bill and veto at the special session called in 1908, but waited until the regular session of 1909.

The opinion of the Supreme Court holds that the Governor, in returning the vetoed bill to the secretary of state, had completed his duty under the law and that the secretary of state was not an agent for the Governor in returning the bill. It held that there were a number of sheriffs in the state interested in the measure and that an effort on the part of any one of them could have brought the bill back to the special session. The opinion holds there was no collusion between the Governor and the secretary of state to withhold the bill, and advanced the theory that they, with the members of the special session, forgot about the measure entirely.

Judge Jordan's dissenting opinion is based on the theory that the sheer neglect of the secretary of state to comply with the constitution by returning the bill should not defeat the will of the Legislature.

Sheriff McOsker is the only sheriff in Jackson County, who has held that office since the law was enacted. The sheriffs all over the state have taken advantage of the law and have collected the in and outs fees.

TO LEAVE RICH PASTORATE.

Dr. Aked Thinks New York Venture a Failure.

The Rev. Charles F. Aked, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church of New York, has about concluded to abandon that pulpit, it is said, because he is convinced that his work in New York has been something of a failure. It is possible that he may hearken to a call from the First Congregational church of San Francisco or return to his native England.

Dr. Aked was offered the New York pulpit largely through the efforts of John D. Rockefeller, who is a leading member of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church and who greatly admired the clergyman's freedom of thought and energy in English church and political movements. Dr. Aked has been credited with being the Standard Oil magnate's chief adviser in charity matters.

Four years ago Dr. Aked accepted the New York call, his aim being to build up a church that should be both metropolitan and cosmopolitan and in time one of the biggest churches of American Protestantism if not of the world. According to a statement made by the clergyman, "the great project we had in mind has completely broken down," and all because of differences over the site for a new edifice. New York's famous Central park is one of the causes, because, as Dr. Aked says, it "divides the city north of Fifty-ninth street into east and west, and if we build on either east or west we become a local, a parochial church, a neighborhood church. We could not be metropolitan and still less cosmopolitan, and, on the other hand, if we built below the park, where we could be both metropolitan and cosmopolitan, we would be submerged by business."

YOUNG DREXEL A MESSENGER

Millionaire Hustles to Learn Wall Street Game.

There is getting to be some "class" to the messengers of the Wall street brokerage houses these days since Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., was put on the job. Although the son of the celebrated Philadelphia banker and former partner of J. P. Morgan is probably the only millionaire among the boys who deliver stock, his presence is an inspiration to the other "kids." There is something demoralizing about it, too, as Drexel took a half day off the second day of his employment, being an important part of the bridal procession at the wedding of his sister-in-law, Vivien Gould, to Baron DeCles.

Young Drexel married Marjorie Gould a year ago and is now in the first grade of the curriculum entitled learning the Wall street game. It is not likely that he will ever purchase a seat on the Stock Exchange, but a knowledge of this branch of finance is necessary in the training of a banker, and that is what he will be eventually.

During his first day of work the young millionaire was shown around by the head of the messenger corps at the brokerage house that is paying him $5 a week. It was a snowy day, and the first lesson took several hours.

Drexel is twenty-two and something of an athlete, so none of the other messengers ventured on too great familiarity, though unable to refrain from some "kidding."

WRECK AVERTED.

Pennsylvania Passenger Train Narrowly Misses Engine On Siding.

Passengers at the Pennsylvania station this morning who were watching the northbound train approach the depot were much excited for a few minutes when it seemed that the engine on the passenger would strike an engine standing on a siding. A freight train had been switching and when the passenger was in sight the engineer started to run in "the clear" on a siding. The engineer miscalculated the speed of the passenger train however and the engine was not quite on the siding when the accommodation was stopped. Had it come a few feet further both engines would have probably been derailed and damaged.

The fireman on the passenger engine saw the danger and when it appeared that the train would not be stopped in time to avoid a collision he jumped. He was not injured and took his place in the engine and continued the run.

What, in fine, had the advances of science done to ease the lot of the patient wife? Was there less dismay in store for her?—Puck.

SEED CORN.

Farmers Urged to Make Selection With Care.

The farmers of the state are given a warning in regard to seed corn. It is reported that on account of the heavy freeze in October while the corn was full of sap the germ was killed in much of it, making it of no use for seed corn. The continued cold weather kept the grain from drying out, so that a great deal of it has moulded since being gathered and what did not mould is now very soft. Prof. Christie, of Purdue, recently stated that every farmer should prepare a testing box and thoroughly test every ear of corn to be used for seed as this is the only way that he can be sure it will grow. By so testing the farmers will save considerable work and probably their crops. One method as suggested for the testing of the corn to be used as seed corn is to place about three or four inches of fine soil in a box and then take four or five grains of corn from ears to be used as seed corn and plant it in this box covering it over with a damp cloth until it germinates which it will do if the germ is not dead. The ear from which the grains are taken should be marked so as not to get it confused with the others that might probably be used.

Fooling a Solomon.

An Irish magistrate was perplexed by the conflicting claims of two women for a baby, each contending that she was the mother of it. The justice remembered Solomon's procedure in a similar case and, sending an officer of the court for a carving knife, declared he would give half to each. The women were shocked, but had no doubt of the authority and purpose of his worship to make the proposed compromise. "Don't do that!" they both screamed in unison. "You can keep it yourself."—From "Irish Life and Humor."

VOTE ON THE LORIMER CASE AGAIN DELAYED

This Time the Opposition Fear to Force Action.

Washington, Feb. 24.—For nearly four hours yesterday afternoon Senator Beveridge occupied the floor in the senate in an address on the Lorimer case. He had not concluded at 5 o'clock, when the senate went into executive session, and gave notice that he would resume his speech today. Efforts to get an agreement on a date for a vote on the Lorimer case failed, due to the objections of several senators. The situation indicates that an organized effort is being made by those opposed to Lorimer to put the case over into the next session of congress, realizing that if a vote were taken now he would retain his seat.

Senator Borah asked that the senate agree today to vote on the resolution for the popular election of senators, but this promptly was objected to by Senator Heyburn of Idaho.

The senate went into executive session shortly after 5 o'clock to consider the Japanese treaty, and after considering the treaty for more than two hours adjourned without acting upon it.

Hearings were held before the finance committee on the reciprocity bill, after which the committee announced that the hearings had closed and an agreement was reached by which the finance committee will meet today to consider the matter of a report on the McCall bill embodying the features of the Canadian reciprocal trade agreement.

The conference report on the river and harbor bill was agreed to by the senate.

NEW YORK CITY BRIDGES.

Four of the Largest in the World Span the East River.

Familiar as is the fact to engineers, few of the citizens of New York realize that four of the largest bridges in the world connect Manhattan with Long Island and that they exert a most important bearing on the present life and future development of the city, apart from any consideration of the engineering elements involved in their construction and maintenance. Today, when the subaqueous tunnel figures so prominently in schemes of urban and suburban rapid transit where rivers or tidal water are concerned, the efficiency of the bridge and the traffic it can carry are matters of peculiar interest. It is only fair for the citizens to consider the traffic that is being carried by the bridges, note its diversity and then figure on the economy.

Furthermore, in New York the bridge department somewhat anomalously is engaged in building one of the largest and tallest office buildings in the city to house many of the city offices as well as provide a terminal for the subway trains crossing to Brooklyn. Here is a very simple example of municipal finance. The terminal is demanded, so the ground must be secured. Therefore it is possible by an outlay of $11,100,000 to build an office building large enough to house many of the departments for which offices are being rented in private buildings at an expense estimated at over $600,000. As the interest on the bonds issued for the erection of such a building would amount only to about $450,000, the saving to the city both in money and convenience is most apparent, while the erection of a fine monumental structure serves to beautify the official center of the city.—Engineering Magazine.

LOSES COLOR SENSE.

Effect of Continuous Darkness on the Human Eye.

That the human eye, though trained to distinguish colors, may by want of use forget how to make such distinction was proved by the unique experience of Dr. Hartley, a fellow of the Royal Society in England. In his case it was shown that color can be forgotten as well as learned by human sight. The doctor in order to save the sight of one, perhaps of both eyes, when one was injured, voluntarily immured himself in a room made totally dark for nine months.

The fortitude which enabled him to adopt this course and the ingenuity by which he preserved his health and faculties in this the most mentally and physically depressing of all forms of imprisonment are sufficiently remarkable. But the doctor also kept an accurate record of his impressions when he at last looked again upon the light after the supreme moment at which he satisfied himself that he was not blind.

He found that in the nine months' darkness his eyes had lost all sense of color. The world was black, white and gray. They had also lost the sense of distance. His brain interpreted the picture wrongly. His hand did not touch the object meant to be grasped. Practice soon remedied the last induced defect of sight. Experiment with skeins of various colored wool in the presence of one who had normal color vision restored the first.

Fireproof Strong Box.

A case for the protection of jewels, banknotes, deeds, etc., from injury by fire must be made of incombustible material and so constructed as to prevent the access of corrosive gases as well as of excessive heat to the interior. A new French device for this purpose, called the Securitas case, consists of two boxes made of asbestos, one of which is much smaller than the other and is placed inside it, being prevented from touching the bottom, sides or top of the outer box by a number of blocks of asbestos. The wide air space thus left forms an excellent thermal insulator, and the asbestos is a very poor conductor of heat; hence the temperature inside the inner box remains comparatively low, even when the outer box is strongly heated.

Protection From Sawdust.

The man who operates a circular saw becomes calloused to the annoyance of picking sawdust out of his eyes every time he bends over to look at his saw, but there is no necessity for enduring this. A simple device can be rigged up with a three-quarter by three inch pane of celluloid such as one sees in automobile curtains.

Hang a piece of one-half inch board from the ceiling over the saw so that it comes down in front of the saw within about eight inches of the work-bench. Make a slit in the board at the lower end and fit your celluloid window with a bolt and thumb screw. Slide the bolt up into the slit in the lower end of the plank and regulate the space between the window and the table according to the thickness of the plank to be cut.

New Light on Palestine.

Nothing more modern than an ordinary oil lamp was used for lighting in Palestine until about four years ago, when the first electric plant was erected. The first building to be thus lighted was the French convent of Notre Dame de France. The second lighting plant was put up about three years ago in the East hotel. The third was in the new German sanitarium, opened during the past summer by Prince Elitel. The fourth is now under construction in the new Grand hotel. These installations consist of a storage battery and a generator driven by a petrol engine. All the materials, even the distilled water, are brought direct from Germany.

WORSE THAN HOBBLE?

The New Freshish Skirt Is the Limit.

THE TROUSERINE GOWN.

The up to date woman in the spring may not long soulfully to wear the trousers that belong rightfully to the masculine sex, but she may indulge her aspirations and be in the freakish mode at the same time by donning the new trouserine gown. Look at the illustration and see how you like it. The little jacket is undeniably natty, and the girle is a feature that any conservative woman might use on another costume to advantage. But the trouserines are yours for the wearing nowadays.

Relief Work In Pewter.

Metal work of many kinds is enjoying wide popularity at present, but some of the hammered work and other kinds require so much strength or time or skill that it is the exception to find expert amateurs. One very simple sort of metal work, however, that is decidedly effective is winning favor in many quarters. This is metal relief work that may be applied to brass and other mediums, but just now is tried with excellent results in pewter.

Pewter has long been prominent among the metals used for ornamental and decorative purposes, its softness and extreme adaptability to various forms, from large and important schemes down to the minutest object, causing it to be frequently selected by craft workers as a happy medium for the expression of their artistic fancies.

With the aid of a metal relief outfit many pleasing and uncommon objects may be evolved at small expense and with wonderfully little trouble. Woodwork articles ready for decorating are obtainable with sheets of thin metal ready designed, so that after a little practice the artist can turn out the most charming boxes, frames, mirrors, door plates, key racks, trays and panels, while those who favor quaint and bizarre bijouterie may execute for themselves weird hatpins, brooches, buckles, cabochons and buttons studded with real or imitation precious stones and wrought in fantastic patterns.

The actual work is very simple. Sheets of pewter, brass or copper are especially provided for this purpose, so thin that they can readily be cut with strong scissors into the required shapes, which, after the processes of outlining and modeling have been accomplished, are fastened to the wood foundations by small nails.

Feminine Footwear.

It's best to perk up a little on your footwear. If you don't you will be sadly left in the race for style.

The New Idea, a woman's magazine, assures us that the short scant walking skirt has made a new and different story of buying shoes. The common sense heel and all the other comfort styles are no longer satisfactory. Shoes now must have distinction.

"There is a marked preference," says the magazine, "for the high buttoned boot with its Cuban heel, which is shown in calfskin and suede and also in velvet, for the tendency of fashion to make much of rich fabrics has extended even to the world of footwear. Black, brown and navy blue velvet are greatly favored to carry out the fashionable conceit of a one tone street costume, and these harmonizing boots are really very fascinating with their long lines of tiny smoked pearl buttons."

Slippers also partake of this general use of rich materials. This, by the way, is an excellent gift suggestion, for pretty slippers are a real luxury.

Black satin is always correct for dressy wear, and this season black velvet is also greatly favored. The deforming rosette is being displaced by the widespread use of buckles for ornamenting slippers. For formal wear the scintillating rhinestones are, of course, the most effective. Very handsome evening slippers for full dress are sometimes fashioned of cloth of silver or gold, or, again, often of brocade.

The Famous Rayo

Gives the Best Light at Any Price

When you pay more than the Rayo price for a lamp, you are paying for extra decorations that cannot add to the quality of the light. You can't pay for a better light, because there is none. An oil light has the least effect on the human eye, and the Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made, though low in price. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for some other lamp, and although you get a more costly lamp, you can't get a better light than the white, mellow, diffused, unflickering light of the low-priced Rayo.

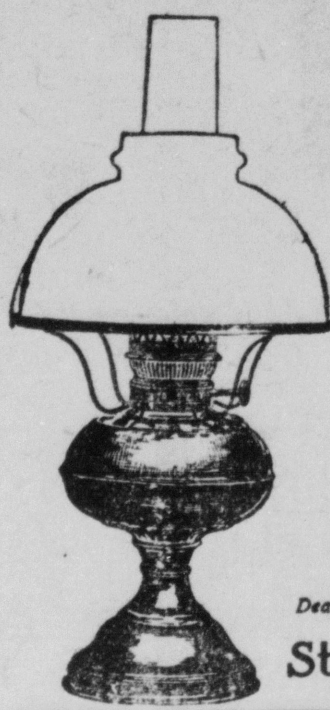

Has a strong, durable shade-holder. This season's burner adds to the strength and appearance. Made of solid brass, nickel-plated, and easily polished.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 26, 1911

Eluah Meets Ahab in Naboth's Vineyard. I Kings 21: 11-20.

GOLDEN TEXT:—Take heed, and beware of covetousness. Luke 12: 15.

In our last lesson Elijah was commissioned to anoint Elisha as prophet in his stead. He found him plowing with the twelfth of twelve yoke of oxen and cast his mantle upon him. Elisha bade farewell to his father and mother, prepared a feast for the people, cooking the flesh of a yoke of oxen with the instruments of the oxen, thus burning the bridge behind him, and went after Elijah and ministered unto him (chapter xix, 19-21), and we shall see a sequel to such whole heartedness in our next lesson.

The story of chapter xx we shall have for a lesson on March 19; therefore we pass it by for the present, and Elijah does not appear in it.

In the lesson of today we come to a story of the greatest possible cruel heartlessness on the part of Ahab and Jezebel, with a prediction of the doom of each from the Lord through Elijah, which was, like all the Lord's predictions, literally fulfilled.

A man called Naboth had a vineyard hard by the palace of Ahab, which the king coveted, as he said, for a garden of herbs because it was near his house. The king offered him the worth of it in money or a better vineyard in its stead, but Naboth refused to let the king have it, saying, "The Lord forbid it me that I should give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee" (verse 3). It is refreshing to meet a man who seeks no favors from and has no fear of even a king.

What a contrast to Naboth is this despicable king, who, because he cannot have what he wants, goes home and to bed, turns away his face and will not eat! How contemptibly small some great men are, and how noble are some in lowly circumstances! A vineyard makes me think of the vine of John xv, and Naboth's clinging to the vineyard which was the inheritance of his fathers is in striking contrast to the readiness with which many preachers and teachers of today give up all that their fathers held dear concerning the true vine. May we prove ourselves abiding branches in the vine and jealously guard the vineyard from all evil ones, even though it cost our life or our position to do this.

The garden of herbs for which the king said that he wanted the vineyard brings to mind the saying concerning evildoers and workers of iniquity in Psalm xxxvii, 1-2, "They shall soon be cut down like the grass and wither as the green herb."

In Jezebel we see those who, like Herodias, do not scruple to take off the earth any one who happens to be in their way, true children of the devil, who has the power of death and was a murderer from the beginning (Heb. ii, 14; John viii, 44). "I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite" (verse 7) were her words to Ahab, as if she owned it and Naboth, too, and could do as she pleased. Her true lord and master, the devil, once said to the Lord Jesus as he showed Him all the kingdoms of the world and the glory of them, "All these things will I give thee if thou wilt fall down and worship me" (Matt. iv, 8, 9). Because He would not worship him he proceeded to kill Him, which he finally did.

So Jezebel proceeded forthwith to kill Naboth, which she did by means of two sons of Beilal, who lied, like their father, and others who did her bidding, afraid not to, I suppose, lest they, too, might lose their lives at the hands of this murderer. Note their false accusations of Naboth. "He blasphemed God and the king." What an awful association of the living and true God with one who represented the devil, and yet when Jesus Christ was on earth, God manifest in the flesh, his enemies told Him that He had a devil (John vii, 20; viii, 52; x, 20). They also raised up false witnesses against Him who laid to His charge things that He knew not (Ps. xxxv, 11). We are still in an enemy's country and cannot expect better treatment than our Master received and must remember that all who live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution (II Tim. iii, 12).

With what seeming triumph Jezebel says to Ahab: "Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Naboth, * * * for Naboth is not alive, but dead" (verse 15). But the word of the Lord came again to Elijah with a message for Ahab and Jezebel: "Thus saith the Lord: In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth shall dogs lick thy blood, even thine. * * * The dogs shall eat Jezebel by the wall of Jezreel" (verses 19-23). And so it literally came to pass (22:38; II Kings ix, 36).

Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap. Her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities. How much she hath glorified herself and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her (Gal. vi, 7; Rev. viii, 5-7). What an epitaph upon these two, "Ahab, who did sell himself to work wickedness in the sight of the Lord, whom Jezebel his wife stirred up" (verse 25). How far from peaceful the manner of their death, but what about their condition ever since? The words of Luke xvi, 22-26; Rev. xiv, 10, 11, are fearfully suggestive.

A Deserter

By EDWARD B. TAPPAN

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

One morning in 1863, when the Confederate and Federal forces were fighting in Virginia, a rawboned man in butternut entered the camp of a regiment of Tennesseans and said to an officer he met:

"Cap', when you uns goin' to fight the Yankees?"

The officer was passing on when the man in butternut called to him.

"Say, cap! I want to enlist."

"Who are you, and where do you come from?" asked the officer, mollified at the prospect of a recruit.

"I'm Ben Riggs, and I hail from Tennessee."

"Tennessee? This regiment is from Tennessee."

"Waal, thar's whar I hail from. Some Union men driv' me out. I come over the mountains fo' to jine this yere army."

Riggs was enlisted and turned over to a drillmaster. After three days hard drilling the sergeant went to the captain and reported that it was simply impossible to teach the Tennessean the manual of arms. When he had taught him a movement the recruit would forget it while he was teaching a second one. He seemed to be anxious to become a soldier, but had no capacity to learn anything. The sergeant was told to do the best he could with him and turn him into the ranks for service.

The first night Riggs was sent out on picket he fired his gun and came running in full tilt, alarming the whole picket line. Supposing him to be a coward as well as stupid, at the next brush he was put in the front rank, but he stood up well, proving conclusively that he was simply stupid.

Riggs' stupidity was of the kind to cause trouble. He went one day to the brigade commander and asked him if he had any tobacco. The general sent him with a note to his captain, ordering the officer in future to keep "this fool away from these headquarters." This mortified the captain, and he put Riggs in the guardhouse. The colonel, hearing of the episode, directed the captain to release Riggs, since there could be no criminality attached to the act of a "blamed fool."

After this the captain spent most of his time thinking how he could get rid of Riggs. He tried surreptitiously to have him transferred to another company, but the plot was discovered and failed. No other company would have him. Then one day Riggs met the division commander and told him he thought he would like a position on his staff. He was sent back with a reprimand for his captain for not better instructing his men in the proper relation of a soldier to his commander.

The captain now vowed he would get rid of Riggs if he had to shoot him. Whenever there was a fight he put Riggs right in the middle of it, but somehow the stupid fellow escaped, while the best men were being shot down. After a week's exposure of Riggs the fighting suddenly ceased.

Then no sooner had Riggs got himself furnished up than there was to be a grand review, at which he placed his captain again in trouble. Passing the reviewing officer, he swung his gun in the air and sang out:

"Three cheers for General C!"

Riggs' captain was desperate. He formed a malicious resolve. He would put the fool in the position of a deserter and get him shot. He told Riggs one morning that the Yankees were offering bounties as high as a thousand dollars to any one who would enlist. It might be a good move for Riggs to desert, go over to the Yankees, enlist and bring back the bounty.

"By jing," exclaimed the dunce, "that 'ud be a good idee! I could set the hull company up with that."

The captain offered to connive at his desertion. He took Riggs out on the picket line and told him to run for it. The captain had arranged that the deserter must pass through a narrow defile between two low hills, at the farther end of which were posted two men who had been instructed to arrest Riggs and bring him back to camp. His trial and execution would speedily follow.

Riggs triangulated his long legs so rapidly that when he met the men who were to arrest him somehow he couldn't stop. They attempted to head him off, but he had got by them before they reached his path. They fired at him, whereupon he turned, shot one with his musket and the other with his revolver and sped on. If he was stupid he was certainly quick, but quick for the first time in his life.

"Well," said his captain, "I'm rid of him, though I fear he's really fool enough to come back. However, if he does he'll be shot for desertion."

But Riggs never returned. On reaching the Federal pickets he asked to be taken at once to the headquarters of a certain general.

"Hello, Baker!" exclaimed the general. "You back! I thought you'd got yourself hanged by this time. Hope you've got a lot of information."

"I have, general. I enlisted in the rebel army as a Tennessean—I didn't say from east Tennessee—and proved so stupid that they wouldn't keep me."

"Well, what are they doing over there?" asked the general.

"Stonewall Jackson has been withdrawn from the Shenandoah valley and is marching toward Richmond. What he will do there I couldn't find out, but all the scattered forces are ordered to join Lee, and it looks as if there was to be a concentrated attack on McClellan."

"Good for you!" said the general.

A Seat in Parliament.

Lord Chesterfield in 1767 lamented the increased price of seats in the British parliament. There was a boom in trade, and prices went up. Chesterfield was ambitious for his son, and when Chatham's promise of a seat came to nothing he went marketing. And he failed to find a single bargain. "I spoke to a borough jobber," he wrote to his son, "and offered five and twenty hundred pounds for a secure seat in parliament, but he laughed at my offer and said there was no such thing as a borough to be had now, for the rich East and West Indians had secured them all at the rate of £3,000 at least, but many at £4,000 and two or three that he knew at £5,000. This, I confess, has vexed me a good deal."

Milady's Mirror

How to Be Beautiful.

Few girls are able to give to their adornment the care that the beauty specialist demands. If they followed all rules they would have good skins and hair, perhaps, but their brains would be starved and their hearts atrophied for lack of development.

The busy girl may be inclined to scoff at beauty measures and pride herself on being above such vanities. If she does so, foolish indeed is she. It is not vain to look one's best. Indeed, it is a good health investment.

What is needed are everyday rules for everyday beauty.

It is not needful to have elaborate massage, a maid and unlimited time to make the best of oneself physically. A little care of the right sort given daily is all that is required.

Remember, the complexion is the barometer of the body, and watch it well. If the skin is blotched, sallow or pasty there is something wrong, perhaps physically, perhaps through neglect of sanitary precautions.

You may have such a good digestion that it will make the blood flow freely in your veins, but if you neglect to keep your face properly washed your skin will not reflect health.

Keeping Skin Clean.

The skin of the face absorbs impurities rapidly. After a day's shopping or exposure to the winds and dust these impurities must be cleansed or the skin will clog.

It will not take long. A thorough washing with pure soap and water or an application of hot cloths does it. When the skin feels hot rub in a little cold cream and rest a few minutes.

then wipe off and spray the face with cold water to act as a tonic.

Where sensitive skin is injured by too much water there are good cleansing creams that may be used, or the face can be wiped off after exposure with three parts of rosewater to one part glycerin.

You may not have time or money for hair treatments, but every woman can brush her hair for five minutes daily and let it hang for ventilation. No woman should be so busy or so tired that she omits to take down her hair at night and massage the scalp.

Keep erect, have your rooms well ventilated, draw deep breaths frequently, see that your corsets are well adjusted and not allowed to be sloppy, wear comfortable shoes for the sake of your nerves and temper, and do not overeat if you value your good looks.

Rest a Few Moments.

Take time to rest a few minutes each day. It will keep you young longer than all other beauty prescriptions.

Besides eating moderately, learn to eat slowly. Bolting food is ruinous to good looks. When under heavy strain let your meals be small and frequent.

Do not overlook the value of water and plenty of it as a beauty agent.

Remember that the keynote of health and beauty is relaxation and a contented mind. The everyday beauty may give herself everyday care, yet soon lose her good looks if she allows herself to be a grind and given to fretting.

Tonic For Gray Hair.

One ounce of white vaseline, one ounce of coconut oil, one ounce of pure bay rum, one-half ounce of tincture of cantharides and one-quarter of an ounce of oil of rose geranium. Put the vaseline and coconut oil in the hot water bath to melt. When dissolved remove from the heat and beat in slowly, one after the other, the cantharides and bay rum and lastly the rose geranium. The mixture will be of a thick, heavy, creamy nature when cool, but it should not be hard or caked.

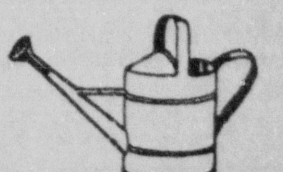

If the hair falls so as to show the scalp a small cap made on the order of a dusting cap might be worn as much as possible. This cap may be made as elaborate as one desires and should have one layer of sheet wadding as an inner lining. If the cap is made of very fine material it may be made double and the cotton placed between. Any other style of covering for the scalp may be adopted by the patient if desired, but it should be light and comfortable, not having any tight bands to restrict circulation. Something, however, should be worn, as a scalp deprived of its natural covering needs something over it for warmth, at least until the new hair has grown in a little. A cold or "tight" scalp seldom if ever grows a good crop of hair.

For Cracked Fingers.

Cracked finger tips, that most painful affliction due to cold weather, must be both treated and protected to effect a cure. As a part of treatment preparations of camphor are efficacious. Old fashioned camphor ice is soothing and at the same time beneficial because of its astringency. A similar cream can be made from two ounces of expressed oil of almonds, one-half dram each of white wax and spermaceti, one and three-quarter drams of spirits of camphor, four and one-half grains of oil of rosemary, two and one-half grains of oil of peppermint and two ounces of rosewater. This is mixed in a china or glass cup set into boiling water, after the manner of preparing any cold cream.

TO REVISE THE CONSTITUTION

Committee Reports Favorably On Governor's Bill.

MINORITY REPORT DEFEATED

By a Strictly Party Vote the Effort of the Republicans to Postpone Indefinitely Consideration of the Matter Was Defeated—Party Lines Disappeared in the House on Inheritance Tax Bill.

Indianapolis, Feb. 24.—The Stotsenburg bill providing for the submission to the voters at the election of 1912 of a revised constitution was reported favorably by the senate committee on constitutional revision. The committee report favored the bill in the form in which it was originally introduced, but it is understood that several changes have been agreed on, and will be submitted as amendments to the bill on second or third reading. Senators Hanna and Halleck submitted a minority report favoring indefinite postponement, and as soon as this was read Senator Stotsenburg moved the previous question, thus shutting off debate. Republicans forced a roll call on this, and it was carried, 27 to 18. The minority report was then defeated by the same vote, which was a strictly party vote.

Party Lines Disappear.

Party lines disappeared in the house when the inheritance tax bill was handed down for third reading, and the bill was passed by a vote of 59 to 25, without debate. The bill is similar to one of two years ago which passed the house, but failed to pass the senate. The measure provides for a tax on inheritances, graded according to the amount inherited and to the relationship of the legatee to the testator, the farther removed the relationship the higher the rate of tax, and the larger the inheritance, the higher the rate.

The Maas loan shark bill, amended in such a way as to strengthen the measure and at the same time to prevent confusion as to banks or grain dealers who might be affected by its provisions, was passed by the house. This bill provides that no higher interest rate than 8 per cent shall be charged on chattel loans and limits the commission of the broker to $2.

After an unsuccessful attempt to change the township trustees bill so as to make it apply only to townships containing incorporated cities of 5,000 population or more, the bill was passed in its original form. The bill provides that township advisory boards may, in their annual meeting in September, appropriate money from the township fund to pay the trustee's office rent, to pay for clerk hire, and to defray the cost of other items of expense when in the opinion of the advisory board members such an appropriation is advisable. The measure was drawn especially to take care of such situations as now exist in Center township, Marion county, where the trustee, Henry C. Schroeder, closed his office because the advisory board could not, under the law, appropriate money for office rent.

Decide on Salary Increases.

Several salary increases were decided on by the senate sitting as a committee of the whole, as follows:

Salary of state librarian, increased from $1,800 a year to $2,500; deputy clerk of the supreme and appellate courts, from $1,800 to $2,400; record clerk of the supreme and appellate courts, from $1,200 to $1,500; assistant reporter of the supreme and appellate courts, from $2,000 to $2,400; second assistant reporter of the supreme and appellate courts, from $1,200 to $1,500; third assistant reporter of the supreme and appellate courts, from $1,200 to $1,500; stenographer and clerk of the supreme and appellate courts from $800 to $900.

According to present plans, the Proctor liquor regulation bill will come out in the house for second reading and amendment this afternoon, and indications are that there will be a warm session. The committee on public morals, which has had the bill in charge, has found it impossible thus far to get the Democratic members together on the provisions of the bill. It was said at the statehouse that forty of the sixty Democrats are opposed to the scale of license fees as proposed in the bill. The forty favor a reduction, contending that the saloon license fees proposed in the bill are too high.

Some other Democrats insist that the figures set out in the bill are proper. Still others are insisting on a higher license fee, some of them going as high as $1,000.

It is said that the Republicans of the house have agreed to stand solidly in favor of a $1,000 license fee, and that they will join with high license Democrats so to amend the Proctor bill.

Whether the members can agree on a bill that will be satisfactory to a majority of the members of the house is still the question, and it probably will be settled this afternoon. There is some talk among the members of the legislature to the effect that if the session closes without the passage of a liquor regulation bill, Governor Marshall may call a special session to enact such a law immediately after adjournment.

It was pushed too far and when it was off the end of the track the car broke square into and one-half remained on the track and the other half hung suspended in the air by the iron work. The coal remained in the two ends of the car.

The case of John Tate against C. E. T. Dobbins, on an account for wages, has been filed in the circuit court. In the case here which was tried before a justice of peace a verdict in favor of the plaintiff was given.

Lawrence county will hold an election Monday under the new Proctor law. The county was "dry" under the local option law, and it is believed that it will vote "dry" again. Both sides are making a hard fight in the election.

Gatch Wheaton, one of the city mail carriers, is off duty on account of a lame ankle. He will not be able to work before Monday. His absence means heavier work for the other carriers because it deprives them of auxiliary help.

Benjamin Black, who was charged with violating the quarantine in this city several weeks ago, and was found guilty by a jury before Justice John Congdon, has appealed his case to the circuit court. It is alleged, that the defendant entered a house which was placarded with a diphtheria sign.

On account of the general closing notice issued by the city board of health in the aid of the various quarantines, the Seymour Business College will be closed until March 13. Prof. E. M. Ross will be at his office each day, however, to consult with persons regarding the work of the school.

County Superintendent J. E. Payne has received the souvenirs which he will present to each of the contestants of this county in the fourth district spelling contest. The souvenirs are small triple plated silver pins in the shape of a four leaf clover, and upon each are the letters, "P. S. J. C." The letters signify Public School Jackson County.

That the secretary of state can not force foreign corporations operating electric railways in the state to make an annual report to his office is the burden of an opinion issued yesterday by Attorney General Thomas M. Honan. He points out that under the act of 1907 electric and steam roads, insurance and surety corporations were exempted from filing such annual statements.

There will probably be no base ball organization in Seymour this year. For a while there was some talk of organizing a team, but the men who were interested in the movement have about decided that such an effort would be unsuccessful. This city has not had a team for several years, and the old ball grounds have been used for farming land. Several years ago the Seymour "Reds" was regarded as one of the strongest teams in southern Indiana, and the games were attended by large, enthusiastic crowds.

No Harm Done.

"Dear me, pa," said the beautiful helress, "you'll mortify me to death yet."

"What's the matter now, Lil?"

"You told John to go down to the depot and get the earl's baggage right out loud so that he couldn't help hearing you. Why can't you learn to say station and luggage?"

"Oh, don't mind that. The earl won't care. He's got used to United States talk. He asked me this morning how I got my dough and how much I had of it."—Philadelphia Record.

His Legacy.

The sad little old man lay dying on his hard bed. He called his family together and addressed them thus: "My children, I am about to be summoned hence. I am, as you know, a poor man and have little to leave you, but all I have I give you gladly."

So he beckoned them to his bedside one by one, kissed them and gave them treasures.—London Answers.

RAILROADS GET SEVERE SHOCK

Not Allowed to Raise Their Freight Rates.

SHIPPERS TO SAVE MILLIONS

Interstate Commerce Commission in a Far-Reaching Decision Throws Aside Contention of the Roads That They Need the Money and Declines to Allow a Single Increase on the 600 Roads Affected.

Washington, Feb. 24.—In the important increased freight rate cases that have been pending for several months the interstate commerce commission has decided against the railroads. The decision of the commission is sweeping beyond all anticipation, even by the shippers. It declines to allow a single increase by the 600 or more railroads in the east and the middle west. It throws aside as unsubstantiated the contention of the railroads that they must have increased revenues to meet the increased cost of equipment and operation, and by its decision cuts off between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 a year in revenue which the railroads had expected to realize from the proposed revenue increase. On the other hand it means an annual saving of that amount to the shippers of the country.

The commission orders the carriers to cancel the proposed increases by March 10, and notifies them that in the event of failure an order will be entered continuing the present rates for two years, thus preventing the carriers from making any changes in that period. The railroads may now appeal to the newly created commerce court, and it is the opinion of many of their lawyers that this step will be taken. It is possible that the roads may seek an injunction from the commerce court restraining the commission from enforcing its order against the increases, pending an appeal of the case.

While the decisions handed down by the interstate commerce commission apply only to railroads in official classification territory and in the territory between the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, they indirectly affect practically every railroad in the country. The decisions are the most far-reaching ever handed down by the commission. Through the decisions the commission goes unanimously on record as opposing the general tendency throughout the country to raise freight rates.

Southwestern Roads Favored.

In a separate decision the commission allows carriers operating from St. Louis into Texas, which is known as the southwestern territory, to retain their present rates made two and a half years ago. In this case the commission says that the evidence shows that the roads are not as prosperous as roads in other sections of the country. The decision in regard to the southwestern territory, however, is trifling in importance as compared with the sweeping findings of the commission in regard to the 600 roads in the east and middle west. In substance the commission holds that the carriers are prosperous under present rates; are making reasonable returns upon capital; that their business is increasing, and that the revenue has more than overcome the advanced wages granted by the carriers in the last year as well as the increased operating expenses. The opinion of the commission indicates that it did not take much stock in the scientific management ideas advanced on behalf of the shippers by Louis D. Brandeis and other attorneys as a means of railroad economy.

The decision in the classification territory case was written by Commissioner Prouty. The territory affected by the decision is bounded by Canada on the north, the Atlantic ocean on the east, the Ohio and Potomac rivers on the south, and the Mississippi river on the west. This case involved a general increase in class rates by the 429 odd carriers operating in this territory.

The decision in the case involving the western trunk line, the trans-Missouri and the Illinois freight committee's territory was written by Commissioner Lane. This case affects directly about 200 railroads operating in the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Montana.
